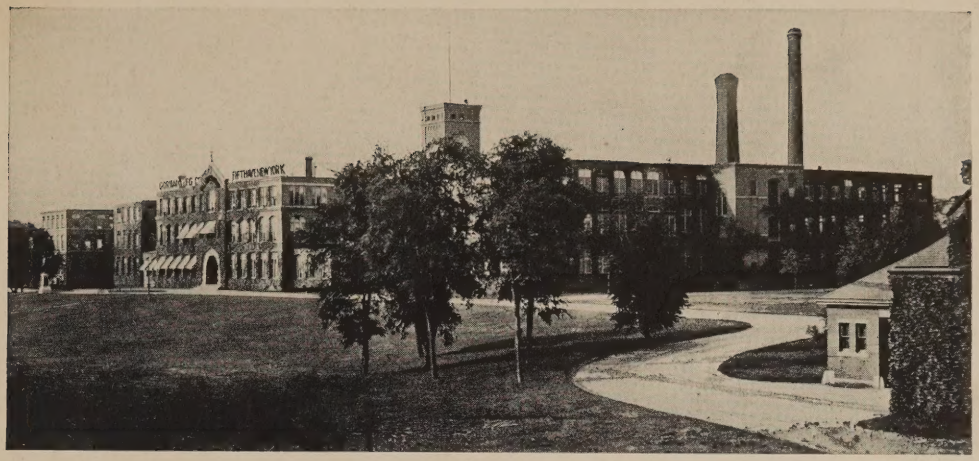
St. Aloysius Church, Detroit, Mich. Rev. Ernest Van Dyke, pastor. High Altar, Communion Rail and Pavements
Designed by Oscar C. Gottesleben, Esq., architect. Made and installed by The Gorham Company



INTRODUCTION

IT is quite impossible to publish a complete catalogue of the Art Products of The Gorham Company for the use and ornamentation of the Church, but the accompanying illustrations, besides showing many of the articles in constant use, will give an idea of the great variety of the special work which could be designed for the position it is to fill. To this class belongs marble altars, decorative and religious subjects in mosaics, painted panels in connection with color decorations, stained glass windows, etc.

When work of this special character is in contemplation, the Company would be glad to send one of its artists to examine the church and ascertain the customer's special needs and requirements, then making consistent recommendations. In the case of new buildings this should always be done in collaboration with the architect who designed the structure, in order that complete harmony may prevail. The high altar and baldachino now in process of erection at the Cathedral of St. Louis, St. Louis, Mo., is a conspicuous example of the success of such collaboration, which is particularly interesting as it is probably the most important and most magnificent creation of religious art in this country.

On Nov. 7, 1913, Right Rev. Patrick J. Hayes, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of New York, gave The Gorham Company Episcopal authority to handle sacred vessels for the purpose of repairs.

THE GORHAM COMPANY

Should the recipient of this catalogue have no use for it, he would perhaps confer a favor upon others by passing it on to any Priest whom he thinks may be interested in it.

Crucifixes 01865, 01866, 02180, 02181 and Cross V2206

THE beautiful relief work on these crucifixes and crosses is illustrative of the two sacrifices of the Cross and of the Mass. The latter is symbolized by the relief on the shaft and arms of cross, and forms the background for the figure of the Crucified.

At the top is represented the Holy Trinity — Father, Holy Ghost and the Son — by the Sacred Host and Chalice, symbolizing His continued Real Presence in the Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist. He is the victim of the Cross and the symbolic representation of the Sacrament of the Altar. Signifies the continuance of the sacrifice of the Cross in the sacrifice of the Mass, where He, the same victim, is offered to the Father, under the sacramental species of the Bread and Wine.

On the arms are represented: His Blessed Mother, in whom He became incarnate, and His Foster Father, St. Joseph; Sts. John the Evangelist, Stephen, Mary Magdelen, and Sts. Agnes, Teresa and Catherine, and, having signally benefited by the fruits of the Redemption, typify to us the means by which we can share in the merits of the sacrifice on the Cross by purity of life, sacrifice of life or worldly pleasures and treasures, and repentance of sin.

On the shaft are represented the four Doctors of the Church, the teachers of the truths of the Saviour. The Angel directs the faithful soul to heed the teachings of the Doctors of the Church, and to look to the Saviour, whom to know, to love, to serve is our duty. The victory of St. Michael over Lucifer typifies the victory gained over sin by sacrifice of the Cross, while the soul rises from purgatory signifies the expiatory merits of the sacrifice both of Calvary and Mass.

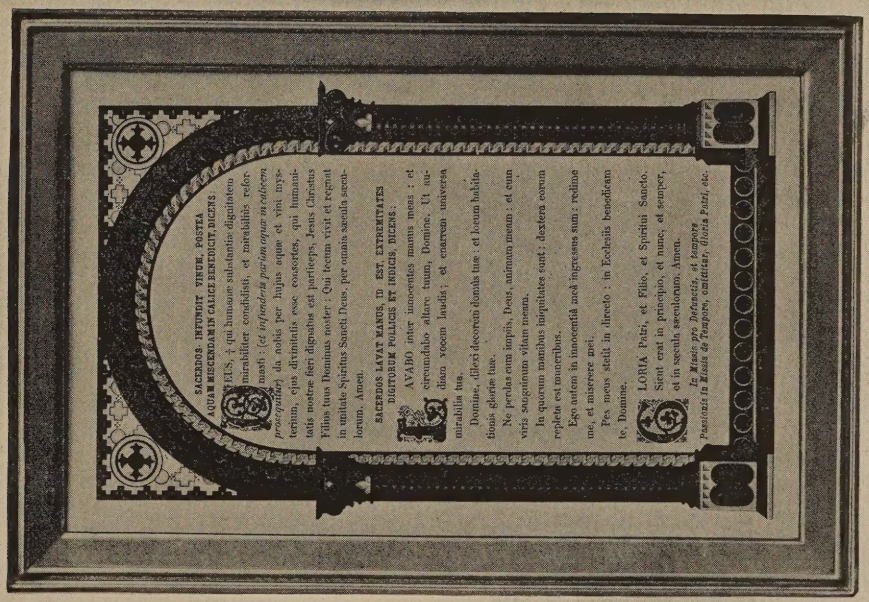
Initium
Sancti Evangelii
Secundum Joannem
IN principio erat Verbum, et Verbum erat apud Deum, et Deus erat Verbum. Hoc erat in principio apud Deum. Omnia per ipsum facta sunt; et sine ipso factum est nihil, quod factum est. In ipso vita erat, et vita erat lux hominum: et lux in tenebris lucet, et tenebræ eam non comprehenderunt. Fuit homo missus a Deo, cui nomen erat Joannes. Hic venit in testimonium, ut testimonium perhiberet de lumine, ut omnes crederent per illum. Non erat ille lux, sed ut testimonium perhiberet de lumine. Erat lux vera quæ illuminat omnem hominem venientem in hunc mundum. In mundo erat, et mundus per ipsum factus est, et mundus eum non cognovit. In propria venit, et sui eum non receperunt. Quotquot autem receperunt eum, dedit eis potestatem filios Dei fieri, his qui credunt in nomine ejus: qui non ex sanguinibus, neque ex voluntate carnis, neque ex voluntate viri, sed ex Deo nati sunt. (Hic genuflectitur) ET VERBUM CARO FACTUM EST, et habitavit in nobis; et vidimus gloriam ejus, gloriam quasi Unigeniti a Patre, plenum gratiæ et veritatis.



SACERDOS INFUNDIT VINUM, POSTEA
AQUAM MISCENDAM IN CALICE BENEDICIT DICENS:
DEUS, † qui humanæ substantiæ dignitatem mirabiliter condidisti, et mirabilius reformasti: (et infundens parum aquæ in calicem prosequitur) da nobis per hujus aquæ et vini mysterium, ejus divinitatis esse consortes, qui humanitatis nostræ fieri dignatus est particeps, Jesus Christus Filius tuus Dominus noster: Qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitate Spiritus Sancti Deus, per omnia sæcula sæculorum. Amen.
SACERDOS LAVAT MANUS, ID EST, EXTREMITATES DIGITORUM POLLICIS ET INDICIS, DICENS:
LAVABO inter innocentes manus meas: et circumdabo altare tuum, Domine. Ut audiam vocem laudis: et enarrem universa mirabilia tua.
Domine, dilexi decorem domus tuæ: et locum habitationis gloriæ tuæ.
Ne perdas cum impiis, Deus, animam meam: et cum viris sanguinum vitam meam.
In quorum manibus iniquitates sunt: dextera eorum replete est muneribus.
Ego autem in innocentia mea ingressus sum: redime me, et miserere mei.
Pes meus stetit in directo: in Ecclesiis benedicam te, Domine.
GLORIA Patri, et Filio, et Spiritui Sancto.
Sicut erat in principio, et nunc, et semper, et in sæcula sæculorum. Amen.
In Missis pro Defunctis, et tempore Passionis in Missis de Feapsem, omittitur, Gloria Patri, etc.

St. Christopher

THIS Saint was of gigantic stature and enormous strength, in which he had such pride that he resolved to serve none but the mightiest prince on earth. But he found that this prince was afraid at the mere mention of the name of the devil, crossing himself religiously each time. Therefore he sought to serve Satan, and enrolled under his banner, but again he was enraged on seeing the evil one's terror at the sight of the Cross. This proving to him that Christ was mightier, still he resolved to seek him, and a hermit, a holy man, enlightened him, but said he must fast and pray. To this Christopher violently objected, yet still desired to serve the true Lord. So, by the hermit's advice, he built a hut by a dangerous ford and carried travelers over by day and night, and the work pleased the Lord.

Now one night Christopher heard a child's voice calling to him to be carried over, and with his lantern he searched in the darkness and found the child whom he placed on his shoulder, and grasping his staff he carried the little child across the dangerous river. But the tempestuous night with the wild roaring waves tried him to the utmost for the child grew heavier and heavier, till with his utmost exertion he placed him on the opposite bank. Then our Lord, who had in this manner visited him, told him he had borne not only the weight of the whole earth, but also of its Creator and that he accepted his services. Later on St. Christopher suffered martyrdom and his picture was painted in great size by the sea, so that any one undertaking a dangerous voyage might, by the very sight of it, gain an accession of fortitude and confidence in divine aid.

MEMORIAL TABLETS

BRONZE is much used for memorial tablets, partly because of its very durable and almost indestructible character, and partly because of its availability for artistic and decorative treatment. A simple, well-designed bronze tablet is artistically effective and at the same time practical as a commemorative memorial. Brass is also available, but it is not as frequently used as in former times.

While bronze will continue to be more used for this purpose than any other material, there are cases where the circumstances or the surrounding conditions make it advisable to use colored marbles and mosaic. The latter, which is now made by The Gorham Company at their New York studios, is particularly desirable when variety and richness of color effect are desired.

Where an important memorial is wanted, the Company will gladly send a representative to examine the conditions and plan work suitable for the special requirements of the place.

In any request for designs and estimates please state the size of tablet required, whether it is to be placed indoors or out, the material preferred, whether it is to have its greatest dimension vertically or horizontally, and the probable inscription.

Estimates of cost will always be gladly furnished upon application.

VENETIAN MOSAICS

UNTIL very recently Mosaics of the type known as "Venetian" could only be secured in Italy. The industry had been established and successfully conducted there for many generations, but recently, through the demands of the architect of the St. Louis Cathedral for the completion of the high altar, it was made necessary that means should be found for producing Mosaics of this character in America. The work planned by Dr. George D. Barnett, architect of the St. Louis Cathedral, and ordered by the Most Rev. John J. Glennon, Archbishop of St. Louis, is being carried to successful completion in the New York studios of The Gorham Company at the time that this catalogue goes to press. It is not found practicable to illustrate these Mosaics in the present edition, but The Gorham Company solicits correspondence on the subject and would be glad to take up the matter with any who desire work of this nature.

Having demonstrated at St. Louis and elsewhere the practicability of producing in this country Mosaics quite equal to the best which have been produced in years past in Italy, the Company ventures to express the hope that, as this splendid art flourished in ancient times, under the patronage of the Church, so now the best that can be produced in this country shall find its way into the Church, where by ancient usage it belongs.

STAINED GLASS WINDOWS

IN the making of Stained Glass Windows The Gorham Company has avoided, on the one hand, the mistake of those earlier Gothic revivalists who replaced Art with Archeology and, while imitating the crude draftsmanship of the ancient craftsmen, lost entirely the spirit and charm of the originals. On the other hand, it has eschewed the meretricious effects aimed at by that later school which strove to reproduce in glass the pictorial effects properly belonging to another medium.

The Gorham Company's workers realize that a Stained Glass Window is not an easel picture, to be isolated in its own frame from objects surrounding it, but that it should form an integral part of the decorative scheme of the building in which it is placed.

Hence they are accustomed to seek the sympathetic and suggestive cooperation of the architect where possible, or, if called upon to add to the attractiveness of existing work, to take its architectural features and surroundings into very careful consideration.

Only thus can be assured the production of Stained Glass Windows which, preeminently beautiful in themselves, shall effectively harmonize with the general effect of the building, ecclesiastical or domestic, it is their mission to adorn.

The Gorham Company's Exhibition of Church Goods
at the American Catholic Missionary Congress held in Boston, 1913

The Gorham Company,
Fifth Avenue and 36th Street, New York City.

October 29, 1913.

Gentlemen: We wish to extend our sincere thanks to you for your splendid exhibit at the American Catholic Missionary Congress at Horticultural Hall. We are fully aware that the hearty cooperation of the business men who were exhibitors assisted in making the Congress a grand success.

Yours very respectfully,
THE AMERICAN CATHOLIC MISSIONARY CONGRESS,
By Joseph T. Brennan, Secretary.
